

Dancers rehearse for the first student production of the Phoenix Theatre Festival John Brown's Body, which opens at 8 pm tonight.

Music and Plays at Phoenix Festival

A five-part festival including eight short plays and a variety of musical happenings begins tonight at the Phoenix Theatre. Festival organizers report that five weekend programmes will be presented in an informal coffee house atmosphere.

Tonight, Saturday and Sunday, the Theatre will present two student productions, John Brown's Body, directed by Francine Wurster, and The Window, directed by Randy Cheveldave. Also on this weekend's programme will be music by the UVic jazz band, and Rudolf Komorous will present New Music.

For February 9, 10 and 11 students are rehearsing The Blind directed by Carl Hare, and mime presentations directed by Kas Piesowocki. George Corwin will conduct a small symphony orchestra.

Programmes for the following two weekends will follow a similar format, and the fifth event will be "A Weekend of Poetry and Music".

Throughout the festival, art work and small ceramic pieces from Fine Arts will be on display in the foyer.

Tickets for all programmes, which begin at 8 pm, are $1 each or $4 for the season. The Phoenix Theatre box office is open from 10 am — 4 pm daily. Phone number is 477-4821.

Beautiful Satellites

The distinguished Canadian astronomer, Professor Helen S. Hogg, University of Toronto, is to visit Victoria in February to give an invited public lecture in the University Lectures Series.

Mrs. Hogg, a past president of the Royal Astronomical Society of Canada and the Canadian Astronomical Society, is renowned for her researches into clusters of stars. She has considerable experience in conveying the excitement of astronomical research to lay audiences and for many years contributed a weekly column, "The Stars", to the Toronto Daily Star.

She will speak in Elliott 060 at 12:30 pm on Thursday, February 15 on "Beautiful Satellites of our Galaxy".

Dance Workshop

A combined workshop for teachers and students of dancing will be held at the University February 24 and 25.

Sessions will include classes in ballet, creative dance, tap and jazz, highland dancing, national and ballroom dancing. Size of classes will be restricted, says workshop co-ordinator Mrs. Anne McLaughlin, but the sessions are open to teachers, students and spectators at fees ranging from $1 to $6.

Guest teachers include Dr. Gweneth Lloyd, founder and former director of the Royal Winnipeg Ballet; Miss Joyce Boorman, assistant professor at the University of Alberta and author of several books on creative dance for children; Miss Jean Jepson, Mrs. Nann Wilson, Mrs. Carol Coulson, Mr. Tony Allen, Mr. Steve Nikleva and Mr. Reg Rossin.

The Physical Education Section of the Faculty of Education is holding the workshop in conjunction with the Canadian Association of Health, Physical Education and Recreation, B.C. Dance Branch, and with the help of School District No. 61, the Greater Victoria Teachers' Association and the Canadian Dance Teachers' Association, B.C. Branch (Registered).

Sessions will be held in the gymnasium, the SUB and the dance studio in P Hut. For information phone Mrs. Sheila Kennedy, 658-8437.

On the Air

The Changing Role of Higher Education will be the topic for discussion on Conference Line to be broadcast on radio station CJVI Monday, February 5 from 6:30 to 8 pm. Taking part in the discussion will be D.J. MacLaurin, R.R. Jeffels and L.E. Devlin.

Dr. E.S. Efrat, Political Science, will interview Professor Selwyn Ryan on Cable 10 February 8 at 7 pm. Topic: Race and Economic Nationalism in Uganda. Professor Ryan who is on the staff of York University has recently returned from two years of teaching and research at Kampala.

Dr. Richard Powers, Political Science, will talk with Mike Roberts of CHEK television, channel 6, on the programme Victoria Scene February 15 from 2:30 to 3 pm. Topic: American Policy in Vietnam.

Counselling Seminar

Over 60 counsellors from schools in Victoria, Saanich and Sooke attended an informal counselling seminar on campus January 25.

Seminar Chairman Ron Jeffels, Director of Admissions, explained the purpose of the seminar: To acquaint high school counsellors with current changes in University procedure and to keep them informed about current university programmes.

Speakers were Dean Peter Smith, Fine Arts; Dr. Esme Ford, Arts and Science Advising Centre Director; Dr. Ray Martin, Counselling Centre; Mrs. Anne McLaughlin, Physical Education, and Nels Granewall, Financial Aid Officer.

Design Award

A specially designed sculpture by Gord Smith, Visual Arts, has been chosen by the National Design Council for presentation to winners of a Canada-wide competition for the Council's Chairman's Award.

The award recognizes "the outstanding contribution made by management of a Canadian enterprise in advancing good design . . ." in products, advertising, packaging and all aspects of design management.

"It could be awarded for a chair or a building as long as it represents first rate Canadian design," says Smith, whose small (four-inch) bronze sculpture has been chosen as the perpetual trophy for annual winners.

He is now finishing 12 sculptures under contract with the Federal Department of Trade, Industry and Commerce.

He is also completing a stainless steel sculpture for the Confederation Centre Gallery and Museum at Charlottetown, commissioned by the Prince Edward Island government after a national competition.

Project Consultant

F.J. Spellacy, Psychology, has been appointed research consultant for a federally-funded project beginning this spring at Brannan Lake Boys School.

Dr. Spellacy will assist project director Gordon Brown of Nanaimo and a team who will be testing students and evaluating results. Follow-up tests will be made until December 1975.

"We hope it will be possible to predict which groups will do well both in school and after discharge," Dr. Spellacy explained. The school could conceivably use the results to determine what is good in the programme and what makes the difference between students who benefit and those who do not.

It should also help in choosing suitable placement for students on their discharge from the school, whether they return to their own homes, to foster homes or other social agencies.

The extensive tests will be given by UVic graduate Olly Leidtke (M.A., Alberta). Another UVic graduate, Frank Murphy, who is on the school staff, will also be working on the project being carried out under a federal government grant of $53,150 for the school.

Library Donation

A $100 donation has been given to the University by the Pacific Dermatologic Association. The donation, to be used "for whatever benefit the McPherson Library deems most necessary", has been given in recognition of services to the Association by Judge Joseph B. Clearihue, Chancellor Emeritus. Judge Clearihue celebrated his 86th birthday in December.

Library Move

Dean Halliwell, University Librarian, will be moving into temporary offices in the Sedgewick Building next week while alterations are carried out on the top floor of the library. His office and that of library secretary Mrs. Jean Chan will be in Rooms 121 and 122 at the end of the Classics Department wing. Local numbers will be 466 and 467 but phones won't be installed until Tuesday, February 6.

Music Dictionary

The editor of the sixth edition of Grove's Dictionary of Music has asked Professor Phillip T. Young, Chairman of the Department of Music, to contribute entries on early wind instrument makers, his area of specialization.

The first edition of the dictionary was published in 1878 under the editorship of Sir George Grove, and soon became the definitive music dictionary in English.

Professor Howard B. Barnett, also of the Department of Music, will also be a contributor to the new Grove's.

Dr. S.A. Jennings

Reports on Sale

The Jennings Commission Report on Academic Governance released Wednesday of last week, went on sale Monday in the campus Bookstore. The 90 page report sells for $3 per copy.

Copies of the MacLaurin Commission Report on Academic Development are also available at the Bookstore for $3.

Special Service

A special service of Thanksgiving and Ecumenical Act of Witness for the Commonwealth, to celebrate the 21st anniversary of the Accession to the throne of Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II, will be held Tuesday, February 6 at Christ Church Cathedral.

This service, which is being arranged by Miss M.I. Ingram, regional chairman, The Monarchist League, will take place at 3 pm.
Members of the University faculty and staff are invited to attend this service.
Faculty members are asked to wear their academic regalia.

CHEMISTRY

Peter Sagert, from the Air Division, Pollution Control Branch, Victoria, presented lectures and demonstrated equipment used in stack sampling to classes in Chemistry 301, a course given by Dr. M.B. Hocking.
As an example of problem solving by use of air emission source sampling, Mr. Sagert discussed the use of this technique to solve problems in the efficient operation of "teepee burners" by the wood industry.

ECONOMICS

Dr. Robert C. Stuart, in collaboration with Dr. Paul R. Gregory (U. of Houston) has co-authored the Comparative Economic Systems section of a new introductory economics textbook entitled Economics
'73-'74, recently published by the Dushkin Publishing Group, Guilford, Connecticut.
Dr. Stuart has been awarded a fellowship by the United States Council of the International Association of Agricultural Economists to attend their annual conference in Sao Paulo, Brazil, August 20-30, 1973.

Dr. J.A. Schofield gave a three-day course in London last month for the Royal Institute of Public Administration. His subject was "Cost-Benefit Analysis".

ENGLISH

A Canadian conference of writers and critics is to be held at the University of Calgary February 8-10. Among members of the English Department attending is Miss Dorothy Livesay who will give a paper on Isabella Valancy Crawford entitled
"Tennyson's Daughter or Wilderness Child?"

VISUAL ARTS

Pat Martin Bates, John Dobereiner and George Teissen have had works chosen by the Canada Council for its art bank. The Council chose a series of female figure drawings by Mrs. Bates; a large painting by Mr. Dobereiner, and several screen prints by Mr. Teissen. Plans call for the Council to spend $1 million a year for five years "to assist professional artists by purchasing their works and to give the public the opportunity to enjoy contemporary Canadian art displayed in public buildings".
